 Every third Thursday of the month, 10 am to 9 pm.
 Free admission.

Actions: What You Can Do With the City presents 99 actions that instigate positive change in contemporary cities around the world. Seemingly common activities such as walking, playing, recycling, and gardening are pushed beyond their usual definition by the international architects, artists, and collectives featured in the exhibition. Their experimental interactions with the urban environment show the potential influence personal involvement can have in shaping the city, and challenge fellow residents to participate.

The exhibition is organized by the Canadian Centre for Architecture, Montréal.

Revolution Books is more than a bookstore, it is a center of revolutionary ferment—a crucible where a re-envisioned revolutionary communism interacts and mixes it up with all the streams of progressive, radical, and revolutionary intellectual life. It's a place to engage the whole world. At the heart of Revolution Books is the work of Bob Avakian. Revolution Books proceeds from an understanding that the problem in today's world is capitalism/imperialism, it will take a revolution to get rid of this people-crushing system, socialism is much better than capitalism, and communism will be a far better world.

The Orientation Center

Chicago World Can't Wait!

We are part of a national movement on a mission to stop the crimes of our government. The world can't wait for determined resistance against war, occupation, torture and intolerance!

We offer classroom and youth groups presentations:

* The truth about military recruitment. We work with Iraq & Afghanistan war vets to bring to life what these wars mean for those who fight them and those whose countries are under the gun.

* Torture and Guantanamo. DVD presentation, interactive skit and questions that involve students in the moral and legal realities of what our government is doing to people around the world. A real eyeopener!
